Statement of Purpose:

South Carolina Home Educators Association, while promoting a Christian worldview, is organized to provide service and support to home educators and support groups within South Carolina, including but not limited to the following ways:

- Providing information regarding the state and national laws, pending legislation and court cases, which may have an impact on home education.
- Educating the general public and government officials about the benefits of home education and the Constitutional right of parents to educate their children in order to protect the future of home education in South Carolina and the nation.
- Aiding the creation and growth of home education support groups throughout South Carolina.
- Providing information and training to home educating parents and member groups through conventions, workshops, seminars, lectures, and/or newsletters.
- Reviewing and disseminating home education materials and information concerning home education seminars, workshops, and related events.
- Actively working to protect the future freedoms of home education in South Carolina and the nation.
- Supporting home education by research and its publication.
